

Diploma of Local Government (Environmental Health and Building Assessment) 91337NSW

This course has been designed to assist Local Government to address critical skills shortages in the industry. The course provides participants with the underpinning knowledge and skills required to work in para-professional or other technical roles in planning, environmental health and building assessment within local government.

The Diploma includes a mix of town planning, building surveying and environmental health units and will provide a vocational pathway for those who wish to progress to professional roles in those areas.

Why study through the Local Government Training Institute?

We offer:

- Delivery via distance education with no time required away from the workplace.
- Flexible start dates for the course – we're ready when you are!
- Study at your own pace.
- Our learning materials are based on current industry practice.
- Enrichment workshops (optional)
