

WORK ACTIVITY INDUCTION TRAINING PACKAGE

At last! A viable solution for the problem of Work Activity training!

This e-learning training package was developed and field-tested by a team of Local Government OH&S professionals to provide council operational staff with Work Activity induction training.

Featuring 12 separate training programs, the package can be used as a self-directed computer-based induction or as a trainer's aid for classroom training.

The course content of all the titles satisfy the requirements of WorkCover's Code of Practice: OH&S Induction Training for Construction (refer to 4.2.4 Course Content). Each training title focuses on common hazards, risks and control measures associated with each work activity; legislative responsibilities; and the correct use, handling, transport and storage of relevant plant, materials and hazardous substances.

Interactive assessments ensure that the participants understand and can apply what they have learned.

The training package can be provided in the format that best suits your organisation including:

- CD-based – just load it onto a PC, laptop or install it on your intranet.
- Web-based – just log on and get started!
